A MORMON MIRACLE.

Towards the close of a fine summer day, a farmer in one of the Western States found a respectable looking man at his gate, who requested permission to pass the night under his roof. The hospitable farmer readily complied. The stranger was invited into the house and a good and substantial supper placed before him. After he had eaten, the farmer, who appeared to be a jovial, warm-hearted, humorous, and withal, shrewd old man, passed several hours in pleasant conversation with his guest, who seemed to be very ill at ease, both in body and in mind: yet as if desirous of pleasing his entertainer, replied courteously and agreeably to whatever was said to him. Finally, he pleaded fatigue and illness as an excuse for retiring to rest, and was conducted by the farmer to an upper chamber, where he went to bed. About the middle of the night the farmer and his family were awakened by the most dreadful groans, which they soon ascertained, proceeded from the chamber of the traveler. On going to investigate the matter they found that the stranger was dreadfully ill, suffering the most acute pain, and uttering the most doleful cries, apparently without any consciousness of what was occurring around him. Everything that kindness and experience could suggest was done to relieve the sick man, but all efforts were in vain, and to the consternation of the farmer and his family, the guest expired in a few hours.

In the midst of all this trouble and anxiety, at an early hour in the morning, two travelers came to the gate and requested entertainment. The farmer told them that he would willingly offer them hospitality, but just now his house was in the greatest confusion, on account of the death of a stranger, the particulars of which he proceeded to relate to them. They appeared to be much surprised and grieved at the poor man's calamity, and politely requested permission to see the corpse. This, of course, the farmer readily granted, and conducted them to the chamber in which lay the dead body. They looked at it for a few minutes in silence, and then the elder of the two gravely told the farmer that they were elders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints, and were empowered by God to work miracles, even to the extent of raising the dead, and that they felt quite assured that they could bring to life the dead man before them.

The farmer was, of course, considerably astonished at the quality and powers of the persons who addressed him, and rather incredously asked if they were quite sure they could perform all they proposed to.

"Oh, certainly! not a doubt of it. The Lord has commissioned us expressly to work miracles, in order to prove the truth of the prophet Joseph Smith, and the inspiration of the books and doctrines revealed to him. Send for all your neighbors, that in the presence of a multitude we may bring the dead man to life, and that the Lord and His church may be glorified by all men."

The farmer, after a little consideration, agreed to let the miracle-workers proceed, and, as they desired, sent his children to his neighbors, who, attracted by the expectation of a miracle, flocked to the house in considerable numbers. The Mormonite elders commenced their task by kneeling and praying before the body with uplifted hands and eyes, and with most stentorian lungs. Before they had proceeded far with their prayers, a sudden idea struck the farmer, who quietly quitted the house for a few minutes, and then returned and waited patiently by the bedside for a few minutes until the prayer was finished and the elders were ready to perform the miracle. Before they began he respectfully said to them that, with their permission, he wished to ask them a couple of questions upon the subject of their miracle. They replied that they had no objection. The farmer then asked:

"You are certain you can bring this man to life again?"

"We are."

"How do you know that you can?"

"We have just received a revelation from the Lord, informing us that we can."

"Are you sure the revelation was from the Lord?"

"Yes, we cannot be mistaken about it."

"Does your power to raise this man to life depend upon the particular nature of his disease or could you bring any dead man to life?"

"It makes no difference to us, we could bring any corpse to life."

"Well, if this man had been killed and one of his arms cut off, could you bring him to life and restore to him his arm?"

"Certainly; there is no limit to the power given to us by the Lord. It would make no difference even if both his arms and legs were cut off."

"Could you restore him if his head had been cut off?"

"Certainly we could."

"Well," said the farmer with a quiet smile upon his features, "I do not doubt the truth of what such holy men assert, but I am desirous that my neighbors here should be fully converted, by having the miracle performed in the completest manner possible; so, by your leave, if it makes no difference whatever, I will proceed to cut off the head of this corpse."

Accordingly he produced a huge and well sharpened broad axe from beneath his coat, which he swung about his head, and was apparently about to bring it down on the neck of the corpse; when, lo and behold! to the amazement of all present, the dead man started up in great agitation, and declared that he would not have his head cut off for any consideration whatever.

The company immediately seized the Mormons, and soon made them confess that the pretended dead man was a Mormon elder, and that they had sent him to the farmer's house with directions to die there at a particular hour, when they would drop in, as if by accident, and would perform a miracle that would astonish everybody. The farmer, after giving the imposters a severe chastisement, let them depart to practice their imposition in some other quarter.

A MARVELLOUS YOUTH.

The St. Louis Republican, of last Friday, has a bully sensation about a boy who possesses the marvellous faculty of appearing in two places at the same time. It says:

Many persons have addressed us inquiries concerning the boy, and one gentleman whose letter we give in full, stated a similar circumstance of a lady with whom he was personally acquainted.

Yesterday we received a visit from Mr. Enlow, of Sangamon county, Illinois, who confirms some of the startling statements which we have already made. He says the boy (whose name we must still withhold out of respect to the earnest wishes of his parents) was seen at his house several times during three days in April last, at which time, his parents assert solemnly, that he was at home in this city and momentarily expected to die. In one instance he was seen walking in the road near the house. A little girl who knew him, thinking he had suddenly come on a visit, ran out to meet him, but returned in a few minutes saying he had disappeared and that she had seen a ghost.

Mr. Enlow, uncle of the youth, further informs us that on last Sunday evening, while sitting in a private chamber conversing with the parents, the boy entered the room as in perfect health and walked up to the table in presence of them all. The mother almost fainted, and rushing into the next room found her boy in a violent spasm. He is daily wasting away and cannot long survive.

The writer has had an interview with the family and has seen the boy, together with a number of gentlemen in this city, who will vouch for these statements.

A few facts concerning his history may be of interest to superstitious persons and those fond of the wonderful. His mother states that he learned to talk with difficulty, and has always been strangely abstracted in manner, and yet in all other respects he is not unlike any other child. Two years ago he was drowned in a pond, while playing with other children, was brought out of the water and restored to life after having been dead eight minutes. In his birth there is nothing mysterious. He is not the "seventh son of a seventh son," nor anything of the sort. He is simply flesh and blood. Professor Wilhelm, of Bethany, Va., has, we learn, written to parties in this city informing them that he was coming hither to investigate the case.

STANTON DISLIKED SCENES.—The following communication, says the Uniontown Genius of Liberty, has been handed to us for publication by a gentleman well known in this community, who vouches for the truth of the narrative contained in it:

EDITORS GENIUS: In the last issue of the Genius was published a weeping scene between Lincoln and Stanton. It reminded me of one related to me by General ——, in the War Department. During the organization of the army by McClellan, a young man from Boston lay in an army hospital. His sister came to Washington to solicit a furlough for him. She was kept waiting for four days in the ante-room before she obtained admission to his Highness, the Secretary of War. When admitted, she stated that her brother and self were the only members left of a large family to a widowed mother, who was in the last stage of consumption, and only desired to see her son before she died. The lady then begged a pass, and a furlough of only one week from the Secretary. Stanton bluntly refused her request. Upon this she sank to the floor, and on being lifted by the bystanders, poured forth such an appeal that it brought tears into the eyes of every one present, except those of Stanton. She said her mother was dying, that she wanted only to see her son once more, and she could not return without her brother and witness the distress and agony of her mother. All this was uttered in tones of deepest grief, and accompanied with streaming tears. Roughly interrupting her pleading, Stanton said: "Madam! I will have no scenes here! you may go!" and, by some of the gentlemen present, she was upheld and escorted to the door. My informant said that he had walked through military hospitals without emotion, but on that day he positively shed tears along with all others present, except Secretary Stanton.

HAPPINESS abounds most with the lowly; there are more blossoms in the valleys than on the hills.

A STORY OF A FAITHFUL DOG.

The following story is said by the Portsmouth Chronicle to be derived, as to all its facts, from a most respectable Quaker family, whose veracity cannot be doubted:

"About fifteen years ago, in the western part of the State of New York, lived a lonely widow named Mozher. Her husband had been dead many years, and her only daughter was grown up and married, living at the distance of a mile or two from the family mansion.

"And thus the old lady lived alone in her house day and night. Yet in her conscious innocence and trust in Providence she felt safe and cheerful—did her work quietly during the day and at eventide slept sweetly.

"One morning, however, she awoke with an extraordinary and unwonted gloom upon her mind, which was impressed with the apprehension that something strange was about to happen to her or hers. So full was she of this thought that she could not stay at home that day, but must go abroad to give vent to it, by unbosoming herself to her friends, especially to her daughter. With her she spent the greater part of the day, and to her she several times repeated the recital of her apprehensions. The daughter as often repeated the assurances that the good mother had never done injury to any person, and added, 'I cannot think any one would hurt you, for you have not an enemy in the world.'

"As the day was declining, Mrs. Mozher sought her home, but expressed the same feelings as she left her daughter's house.

"On her way home, she called on a neighbor who lived in the last house before she reached her own. Here she again made known her continued apprehensions, which had nearly ripened into fear, and from the lady of the mansion she received answers similar to those of her daughter. 'You have harmed no one in your whole lifetime, surely no one will molest you. Go home in quiet, and Rover shall go with you.' 'Here Rover,' said she to a stout watch dog that lay on the floor, 'here Rover, go home with Mrs. Mozher, and take care of her.' Rover did as he was told. The widow went home, milked her cows, took care of everything out of doors, and went to bed as usual. Rover had not left her for an instant. When she was fairly in bed, he laid himself down upon the outside of the bed, and as the widow relied on his fidelity, and perhaps chided herself for needless fear, she fell asleep. Some time in the night she awoke, being startled, probably, by a slight noise outside the house. It was so slight, however, that she was not aware of being startled at all, but heard as soon as she awoke, a sound like the raising of a window near her bed, which was in a room on the floor.

The dog neither barked or moved. Next there was another sound, as if some one was in the room and stepped cautiously on the floor. The woman saw nothing, but now for the fiirst time felt the dog move, as he made a violent spring from the bed, and at the same moment something fell on the floor, sounding like a heavy log. There followed other noises, like the pawing of a dog's feet; but soon all was still again, and the dog resumed his place on the bed without having barked or growled at all.

"This time the widow did not go to sleep immediately, but lay awake wondering, yet not deeming it best to get up. but at last she dropped asleep, and when she awoke the sun was shining. She hastily stepped out of bed, and there lay the body of a man extended. The dog had seized him by the throat with a grasp of death, and neither man nor dog could utter a sound till all was over. This man was the widow's son-in-law, and the husband of her only daughter. He coveted her little store of wealth, her house, her cattle, and her land; and instigated by this sordid impatience, he could not wait for the decay of nature to give her property to him and his, as the only heirs apparent, but made this stealthy visit to do a deed of darkness in the night. A fearful retribution awaited him.

"The widows apprehensions, communicated to her mind and impressed upon her nerves, by what unseen power we know not, the sympathy of the woman who loaned the dog, and the silent but certain watch of the dog himself, formed a chain of events which brought the murderer's blood upon his own head, and which are difficult to be explained without reference to that Providence or overruling Power which numbers the hairs of our heads, watches the sparrow's fall, and 'shapes our ends, rough hew them as we will."

QUESTIONS.—Can any one tell how young men who dodge their washerwoman, and are always behind with their landlord, can play billiards night and day, and are always ready for a game of poker or seven up? Can any one tell how men live and support their families who have no income and do not work, while others who are industrious and constantly employed, half starve? Can any one tell how it is that a man who is too poor to pay for a newspaper, is able to pay a dollar or two a week for tobacco, whisky or cigars?—Ex.

CROSSES are ladders leading to heaven.

CRUELTY AVENGED.

In the reign of Queen Anne, a soldier belonging to a marching regiment which was quartered in the city of Worcester, was taken up for desertion, and being tried before a court-martial, was sentenced to be shot. The colonel and lieutenant colonel being at that time in London, the command of the regiment descended in course to the major, a most cruel and inhuman man. The day on which the deserter was to be executed having arrived, the regiment, as usual on these occasions, was drawn out to see this execution.

It is the custom on such occasions for the several corporals to cast lots for this disagreeable office, and when every one expected to see the lots cast as usual, they were surprised to find that the prisoner should die by the hand of his own brother, who was only a private soldier in the same company, and who, when the cruel order arrived, was taking his leave of his unhappy brother, and with tears fast flowing, that expressed the anguish of his soul, hanging for the last time about his neck.

On his knees did the poor fellow beg that he might not have a hand in his brother's death, and the prisoner begged to die by any other hands than those of a brother. The unrelenting officer, however, could by no means be prevailed upon to revoke the sentence, though entreated to do so by every inferior officer in the regiment; on the contrary, he swore that the prisoner's brother, and no other, should be the executioner, if it were only for example's sake, and to make justice appear more terrible. When much time had been wasted in fruitless endeavors to soften the rigor of this inhuman sentence, the prisoner prepared to die.

The major, strict to the maxims of cruelty, stood close to see that the piece was properly loaded, which being done, he directed that the third motion of his cane should be the signal to fire. Accordingly, at the third motion, the major, instead of the prisoner, received the bullet through his own head; and fell lifeless to the ground.

The man had no sooner discharged his piece, than throwing it on the ground, he exclaimed:

"He that can give no mercy, no mercy let him receive. Now I submit. I would rather give my life this hour for that man's death, than to live an hundred years and take away the life of my brother!"

No person seemed sorry for this unexpected piece of justice on the inhuman major; and the man being ordered into custody, many gentlemen present, who had witnessed the whole affair, entreated the officers to defer the execution of the condemned brother till the Queen's pleasure should be known. The request being complied with, the city chamber that very night drew up a very feeling and pathetic address to her majesty, setting forth the unparalleled cruelty of the deceased officer, and humbly entreated her majesty's pardon for both the brothers. They were pardoned and discharged from the service.

Romance of Three Husbands and One Wife.

A correspondent at Monroeville, Huron county, Ohio, furnishes the following bit of romance in real life, the facts of which, though too briefly related, yet contain enough to "point a moral," if not to "adorn a tale." The correspondent writes:

In the year 1859, an old man (John Wilson by name) and his wife came into this (Huron) county, from Canada, bringing with them an adopted child, named Margaret. Shortly after coming here, she became acquainted with and married a man by name Edward Gray. Gray, after living with her a short time, repented his course, and, becoming tired of married life, went into the army. Having survived the war, he took up his residence in Tennessee, where he was living at last accounts. The wife being thus freed from all restraints by the absence of her husband in the army, became a common prostitute, and endeavored to procure a living by hanging around the camp, then located at Monroeville and Norwalk. Becoming an intolerable nuisance, she was finally seized and tarred by command of the officer then commanding at Monroeville. The result was that she left here and sought her old home in Canada. She had not been there long before she made the acquaintance of a man by the name of Eli Doane, whom she married. After living with him a sufficient length of time, she became the mother of a pretty little curly-haired girl, who was christened Alice. About this time she became acquainted with a young man from the State of New York by the name of Edward Teeter, who had thrice jumped the bounty and had evaded the law made and provided in such cases, by escaping to the Queen's dominions. Learning that he was about coming back to "the States," on a visit to his mother, she sought and gained permission of her husband to accompany him across the border to visit her foster parents, living in Huron county. Instead of visiting his mother, as he pretended, he came on here with her. After staying here about three weeks he swore out a license (he must have perjured himself) and was married. So things stood for about ten months, when a child was born to them. When the child was about two weeks old, husband No. 2 turned up, in search of his wife and child. Contrary to expectation, and we might as human nature, he was willing to pla second fiddle, and he continued with onl a share of the woman whom he considere as his wife, yet he had no more legi right to her than husband No. 3. Th state of affairs not suiting the sense o propriety of the foster parents, with whor they were staying, legal advice was sough which, coming to the ears of the two caused them to smell a large sized mice and fearing an investigation they decamp ed to parts unknown—wife, two husband and two children.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN—AN AMUSIN INCIDENT OF THE LATE WAR.—When th Confederate army of Northern Virgini under Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, wa stationed at Centreville, just after th first battle of Manassas, the orders in re gard to leaves or furloughs were positive None were to be granted without a su geon's certificate of disability.

Major T. G. Rhett, now the able Supe intendent and Secretary of the Machanic and Agricultural Fair Association of Lou isiana, was acting in the dual capacity adjutant general and chief of staff; h duties were consequently very arduous and he experienced no little annoyanc from persistent applications for leave One man's mother was ill, another's fathe was dying, and so on ad infinitum. Earl one morning, while the major was im mersed in the onerous duties of his offic a soldier entered and petitioned wi streaming eyes for leave, saying his wi and seven children were down with ye low fever in New Orleans, and were dyin He was informed the orders were positiv and no furlongs could be granted. Scarc ly had he departed with a mint of hopele dejection, when another soldier entere looking, if anything, more woebego than the other; he had "a wife and fi children dying, and couldn't he have furlough?"

"Not enough, my man, not enough said the Major; "there was a man ju ahead of you, with a wife and seven chi dren, all dying." The fellow looke abashed for a moment, but soon recove ing his self-possession, burst into a laug exclaiming, as he turned to leave, "Yo got me there, Major—you got me there

A HERO OF THE SEA.—The sufferin of the crew of the brig Nellie Mitche may fairly be classed among those terrib disasters that awaken horror from recital of the circumstances. Four da out from Aspinwall, the whole ship company was prostrated with fe fever, with the exception of the and one man. When within fifty of Swan Island, their destination, two were also stricken down. The ma ter, fearing lest no one might survive tell the fate of the inmates of this pes ship, tacked a letter to the bulk hea giving an account of the ravages of t disease. Providentially, in three days t master recovered sufficiently to head t brig for San Antonio. In spite of t most intense agony he persevered in e deavoring to reach a port of safety, b often, while trying to retain the helm his fevered hands, fell fainting on the deck with no one to relieve him, or even to p a drop of water to his lips. At last friendly sail appeared, and the Lizzie Ba rescued this self-sacrificing sailor fro death through exhaustion. WILLIAM H DUNPHY is the hero of this story of floating hospital. On land, with all th aid of sympathizing assistants, it require the strongest nerves to pass through such scenes; but on the pathless ocean undyin energy is demanded to relieve the fevere occupant of a hammock.—Phila. Inq.

A TUNNEL THROUGH A VOLCANO.—English engineers have nearly complet ed a railway tunnel through a volcani range in New Zealand. The plains o the Canterbury settlement, in the souther part of the two great islands of New Zea land, are divided from the port of Lyttle ton by almost impracticable hills, an in May, 1861, the local government ac cepted an offer to complete a line of rai way from Lyttleton to Christchurch i five years; the cost of a tunnel two thou sand eight hundred and thirty-eight yard long, and called the Moorehouse Tunne being fixed at £195,000. The work were at first carried on under great disad vantages, on account of the Otago gol fever and other causes.

This tunnel affords, it is believed, th first instance where a complete section o an extinct volcano has been opened ou The rock in the tunnel is a series of lav streams and beds of tufa, intersecte by vertical dykes phonolite. The lav streams generally consist of scoria ove lying a coarse pink trachyte, which pass gradually through shades of gray, purp and blue into a black finely-grained dolc ite, intensely hard and tough, the lighte and softest rock being at the top, and t densest and blackest at the bottom. I garded from an engineering point of vie the work is considered eminently succe ful.

IN opening canned fruits, much trou may be saved by putting a coal of fire tqe little circle in the centre of the c and blowing it, which melts the sol that secures the piece.

NO MAN is so old but thinks he m yet live another year.

Radical County Convention.

This august body assembled on the second of September. Some six districts were unrepresented, yet there was much talent in the body. Among the names we recognize those of John J. Glass, Esq., late radical member from this county, John Quincy Adams, Aleck M'Vicker, former-ly radical Sheriff and would-be Treasurer, V. A. M'Dermitt, of the Grand Army of the Republic, Samuel Singleton, late District Attorney and prospective Repre-sentative, Josiah M. Christy, C. O. U. S., Col. Jacob M. Campbell, Surveyor Gen-eral and one of the Chiefs of G. A. R., J. S. Strayer, J. P., J. S. Ogden, G. A. R., Capt. James Quinn, do., do., Henry Walters, Foreman of Grand Inquest, J. J. Gillespie, G. A. R., James Cooper, formerly County Commissioner, radical member, and next radical Jury Commis-sioner, Wiliken of Washington, as the Tribune has it, Capt. F. M. Flanegan, G. A. R., late radical Sheriff and embryo radical Commissioner, J. D. Hamilton, late Sheriff, E. Crum, and Wm. Ream, for many years Constable of one of the most respectable districts in the county.

Dr. Bell, one of the pillars of the party, was elevated to the chair, supported, right and left, by his numerous Vices, and assisted by Slick and Singleton, SS.

The members of the Convention then proceeded to nominate each other as can-didates, but failed in part, as one or two of the nominees were, by mistake, out-siders. But they nominated, nevertheless, a right clever ticket.

Samuel Singleton, formerly of Indiana county, but who has resided several years in Ebensburg, was nominated for Assem-bly. He served in the Union army, is a gentleman of very respectable attainments, and is of irreproachable character.

Maj. Richard Ryckman was nominated for Sheriff. He is, we understand, a Ca-nadian by birth, but presume, if so, he has since been naturalized. He also has resided several years in Cambria county, served in the army, is chief of police in Johnstown, and is, we believe, a compe-tent, as we know he is a clever, man.

Lieut.-Col. Wm. A. M'Dermitt, candi-date for Treasurer, has also been in the service of his country, and is a respectable young man.

Capt. F. M. Flanegan, the nominee for Commissioner, is a clever man and a gal-lant soldier, but he lost his prestige three years since. He had been nominated by the radicals for Sheriff, and was running under a strong current of popular favor, when he withdrew and gave his place to an old Portage Rail Road locofoco of the Dugald Dalgetty stripe, and thereby shamed and disappointed what democratic friends he had.

Col. James Cooper is the candidate for Jury Commissioner. He never was in the service, but he is nominated for the only office the radicals can get in Cambria County, and of course the soldiers were not intended to be elected. Mr. (not Col.) Cooper is a worthy and competent man, and will make a good officer from his gen-eral acquaintance with the people.

Sergeant J. S. Ogden was nominated for Poor House Director. We understand that Mr. William Glass, of Munster, had been agreed upon in caucus for this posi-tion, as a reward for trading Barker for Morrell last year, but the secret organiza-tion defeated him in convention. Mr. Og-den is a deserving young man, and would no doubt make a good officer if he had a chance.

The other candidates—John Van Scoy-, Jr., of White township, for Auditor for 3 years, Charles Buxton, of Jackson township, for Auditor for 1 year, and G. Stineman, of Richland township—we do not know, nor do many of our readers, but we agree with the Alleghanian that it is not the "best available ticket" they might have nominated.

Dr. Bell is Chairman of the Radical County Committee. We suppose they will be frequently called together by this ring, and those who are in the ring will have it all their own way.

A GLORIOUS DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN CALIFORNIA.

THE GOLDEN GATE CLOSED AGAINST RADICALISM.

Democratic Governor and Two Congressmen Elected.

A U. STATES SENATOR SECURED.

The election in California on Thursday last resulted in an overwhelming Demo-cratic victory. Henry H. Haight, the Democratic candidate for Governor of that State, has been elected by not less than ten thousand majority, two of the three Congressmen chosen are Democrats, and the Legislature is Democratic, thus secu-ring the election of a United States Sena-tor in place of Conness, the present Radi-cal incumbent. The entire State has been thoroughly redeemed from the blighting curse of radicalism, and the tyrannical and disunion policy of Congress has been rebuked in terms that cannot be mistaken or gainsayed. The wild waves of fanati-cism have been broken upon the Pacific coast, and the corruption and disregard of constitutional obligations which have so long marked the career of the dominant party will ere long be checked all over the land by the voice of a free people, who are not willing to be degraded to the level of the ignorant and indolent negroes who are sought to be made their equals. The De-mocracy of the Golden State have won a glorious victory, which will foot up a gain of not less than twenty-four thousand since the last Gubernatorial election. This is certainly "tidings of great joy" to the true men of the Keystone State, and can-not fail to nerve them for the coming struggle in our own good old Common-wealth. As The Age truly remarks, Cal-ifornia only takes the position a short time in advance of Pennsylvania, New York, and other States on this side of the At-lantic slope of that chain of mountains which backbone the continent in this de-partment of the New World. The same causes which affected the people of Cali-fornia will change the opinions of men in this State. The only thing to be done is to keep the Puritan and the Negro prom-inently before the masses, and they will redeem the Old Keystone State at the coming election.

The result in California has sent a thrill of joy to the heart of every man who loves his country and seeks to re-establish the Constitution as the chart by which the Ship of State is to be steered in the future, and hence all will join in the jubilations of the New York World when it says:

—California is an epitome of the Union. Her soil is peopled by the sons of every State in the Union, from Maine to Texas, and from Florida to Minnesota. The verdict of condemnation pronounced upon the Re-publican party and all its works by Califor-nia has therefore a deeper significance than if it were pronounced by any State where sectional or local influences have greater weight. It signifies nothing less than the approaching dissolution of the party which has ruled and nearly ruined the nation dur-ing the last six years, and the speedy down-fall of the men who were fast transforming our republican system of self-government in-to a military despotism.

Welcome! thrice welcome! this news from the gallant Pacific State, which comes like a bugle blast of triumph and the cheers of victorious troops from one wing of a great army, pealing along the lines, and nerving their fellow-soldiers to a final and over-whelming onset.

Do you hear the call, men of Maine? The Pacific to the far Atlantic speaks: "The victory we have won, you, too, may win The odds with us were as desperate as yours. Together all, and charge for victory."

Do you hear the shout, Ohioans, and men of the Keystone State, which comes from the Golden Gates? "We have redeemed Cali-fornia. Your odds are yet more desperate than ours. But the line is broken. On, on with all your troops, and charge for victory."

—Later returns from the California election give the Democrats a gain of one U. S. Senator, three members of Congress, besides the Governor, Lieutenant Gover-nor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treas-urer, Surveyor General, Attorney General, Harbor Commissioner, Clerk of Supreme Court, State Printer, a majority in the Legislature and several hundred minor officers. Very good.

A STRANGE FREAK.—A few days since a woman went to East Saginaw, in this State, and issued handbills announcing that Mlle. Ellanora Shoudon would walk a rope stretched across Genessee street, at 6 o'clock P. M., Tuesday. A great crowd assembled, but for some reason she failed to walk, postponing it until the next day. At the appointed hour about 2,000 peo-ple assembled to witness the performance. The lady appeared in a robe de ballet, but seemed very timid, and after a while, see-ing her awkwardness, the authorities in-terposed and stopped the performance. On Thursday an old gentleman came to town in a state of great excitement, inquiring for a missing daughter who answered the description of the rope walker, and stated that she had left home suddenly a few days previous, and that her people feared foul play. The father who is well known to parties in this city, is a wealthy busi-ness man, residing in Flint. The young lady is twenty-four years old, is handsome, and engaged to be married to a wealthy Eastern man soon, and moves in the best circles of society. She had never walked a rope before, and what induced her to undertake such a rash adventure is beyond conception. She was induced to go home by a party who was acquainted with her father and family, and started about an hour before her father came.—Detroit Ad-vertiser, September 2.

HON. L. W. HALL was defeated for the nomination for State Senator in the Radical Conference at Lewistown, on Fri-day last.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

—The Englishmen who were held as prisoners by the King of Abyssinia have been released.

—A man named George Finonoff the other day killed four wild turkeys at one shot, near M'Connellsburg, Fulton county.

—There was frost near Springfield, Massachusetts, on the 30th ult., and snow fell on Mount Washington the same day.

—Rev. Windt has been sentenced to fifteen years in the eastern penitentiary. About twenty girls of the asylum were subjected to his lusts.

—A stick of logwood that was lost over-board at Union wharf, Portland, about forty years ago, was found in the mud, last week, quite sound.

—A New Haven minister of twenty-five years' standing, has been obliged to abandon the pulpit and go to work as a carpenter, in order to earn enough to sup-port his family.

—Eli Kimberly, of Guilford, Ct., was kicked by a rooster on Saturday last, and was so badly hurt that he is in danger of lockjaw! The frisky bird hit him with a spur in the knee.

—A water spout, over one hundred feet in diameter, came across the Dela-ware north of New Castle, on the 5th instant, and upon touching land swept fences and trees away like chaff.

—A six year old boy, at Trenton, N. J., who was locked up in a dark closet last week by his teacher, became insane from fright, continued to scream at inter-vals for two or three days, and finally died.

—Four boys, the youngest only fifteen years old, swam the Niagara River at Square Island recently, at a point where the current is full of eddies and whirlpools and goes towards the falls at the rate of seven miles per hour.

—On Sunday last, a crazy negro enter-ed a colored Baptist church in Savannah, and mounting the pulpit, closed a brief harangue by flinging spittoons at the con-gregation. The poor wretch when finally seized became raving mad.

—Mr. James Fleming, of New London, Missouri, grew a crop of wheat on his farm this season which averaged forty bushels to the acre. He sowed fourteen acres, and gathered five hundred and sixty bushels of prime wheat.

—Mr. Jacob Gallagher, of London-derry township, Dauphin county, while at work in a field last Thursday was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He was a laboring man about forty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and three children.

—The murderer and usurper, Juarez, has had himself crowned with a crown of gold. It is said that Diaz has come to an open rupture with him because of his determination to execute more prisoners. Miramon's brother is in arms against Juarez with 2,500 men.

—The reservoir which supplies the city of Hartford, Connecticut, with water (six miles distant) gave way on the 6th instant, sending down two million gallons of water upon the surrounding farms and sweeping fences, houses, mills, &c., into a complete wreck.

—According to the latest revelations of New England political opinion, Senator Wilson cruelly says: "We owe a debt of gratitude to Stanton which we will be a long time in paying." It looks so; that debt, even with no bankrupt act, can be bought at a very low rate just now.

—At Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday evening, two boys named Jacob Renner and William Schwartz, aged respectively fifteen and twelve years, got into a quar-rel, when Renner drew a pocket knife and stabbed Schwartz to the heart, causing his death almost instantly. Renner is in jail.

—A few weeks ago, a small child of Alexander Taylor, residing in Jefferson township, Fayette county, while in the woods, with other children, gathering wood, ran in pursuit of a kitten, and trip-ping, fell, striking her head on a large stone, cutting it severely, from the effects of which she died a few days ago.

—A young sea serpent, strayed away from its parental nest in Lake Michigan, was last Sunday captured in Detroit river. He was five and a half feet long, and car-ried a villainous mouth. Two men in a boat saw him, and a well directed blow with an oar caused him to turn around its blade, when he was hauled in and killed. The body has been sent to New York.

—Benjamin Shyers took Robert Mas-singill's girl from him, on the way to church, in St. Paul, Decatur County, In-diana, on Sunday evening, and when the party were returning, Missingill threw a stone at his rival, which struck him on the head, and caused death in a few days. The murderer was arrested at Greensburg, and taken to St. Paul for trial.

—The boat race between Hamill and Brown, for the championship of America, came of at Newburg, N. Y., on Monday last. Hamill was ahead when they turn-ed the stake boat, and Brown ran into him, in consequence of which the referee declared Hamill the winner of the race. Another contest will likely take place between them before the championship is awarded to either of them.

—During the afternoon of the 6th inst. a frightful accident occurred at the Chit-tenden county fair, at Burlington, Vt. The seats, arranged in the form of an am-phitheatre, and all densely crowded with spectators, fell to the ground with a ter-rible crash, bringing down with them over 3,000 people. More than 50 are injured, some fatally, and many have broken limbs. The structure was 30 feet high, and it is miraculous that more were not injured.

—Governor Helm, recently elected by the Democracy of Kentucky, died at his residence near Elizabethtown, on the 8th inst. His funeral took place on Tues-day, just one week from the day of his inauguration. His death having occurred during the first year of his term, the law makes it the duty of the Chief Justice to order another election for Governor, to be held on the first Monday of August next. Meantime, all the powers and duties ap-pertaining to the office must be exercised by Lieutenant Governor Stevenson.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

—At a meeting of negroes in Manches-ter, Va., on Saturday night, a speaker, who suggested "that Grant and Johnson should be hung as high as Haman if the wheels of reconstruction could not otherwise be unclogged," was loudly ap-plauded.

—The Buffalo Express says: "The removal of Stanton shows conclusively that Mr. Johnson has determined to sever all ties between himself and the Republi-can party." "Ties between Johnson and the Republican party" is good—about equal to the rope between the mob and its victim.

—The Chicago Times says that how-ever Gen. Grant's late letter to the Presi-dent, protesting against the removal of Sheridan, many improve his chances for the Presidency, that it will hardly add to his reputation for understanding the na-ture of a republican form of government, or for knowing how to write good English.

—Speaking of that nasty subject, negro suffrage, the Cincinnati Enquirer says:— "Every State in the North to which it has been submitted has voted it down. Con-necticut voted it down last year by 6,000 majority; Illinois voted it down in 1862 by 100,000 majority. In Pennsylvania and Indiana no party has the courage to submit it. Ohio will vote it down by a large majority this fall."

—Negroes vote in Mexico, and during the past forty-six years, it has been gov-erned by no less than twenty-six different Presidents, eight Directors and two Em-perors. Most of these have been placed in power by the bloodiest and most devastating revolutions. Such is the con-dition of affairs when negroes are permit-ted to have a voice in the control of the government. It is revolution; it is war, murder, rapine and plunder.

—When the Registers were in a certain beat in Alabama, the negroes wanted to know the cause of there having "to put down their names;" they were informed by a rather smart individual that it was for the purpose of ascertaining their numbers preparatory to sending them to Brazil, to fight to free their brethren in bondage there. The idea took; that night they skedaddled to the swamps, and did not return until the Registers had left.

—A nasty bird, by the name of Jay, who edits a filthy Mongrel sheet at New-ton, N. J., says he had rather sit on a jury with "eleven niggers, and all of the blackest kind, in mid August, and the windows closed and the key-holes stopped, and each nigger with an old be skunk in his arms, before he would sit on a jury with the whitest and decentest of these Democrats." Well, Jay has the reputa-tion of being just the nasty wretch he de-scribes himself to be.

REPUDIATION.—For some time past it has been evident to the close observer of events that the Radicals would be the advocates of repudiation. We have charged this as the coming agitation in the country, created by the selfishness of the governing influence, the New England element in the Congress-policy party. We proceed now to mark the evidence.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has repudiated the "loyal bonds of the government" by deciding that they must be taxed, thus depreciating them after the solemn pledge that they were too loyal for the sacreligious hands of mere State necessities.

The Radical City Convention, here in Philadelphia, has repudiated the "Boys in Blue." It is now easy to repudiate "green-backs."

The loyal aristocratic League, the old woman on Broad street, has repudiated the plain, "middle class" Republicans.

Stevens and his friends, so he says in his late letter to Schoch, have repudiated the Constitution of the United States.

Grant has repudiated Stanton and Sheri-dan—"Cavalry Sheridan."

Wendell Phillips, the Radical fugleman, has repudiated Grant.

The Radicals in Congress want to re-pudiate the Executive Department of the government.

The Radicals of Pennsylvania, in the Legislature, repudiated so much of the in-terest of the State debt as was payable in gold and silver.

If "straws show which way the wind blows," the Radical wind will soon blow a gale for repudiation!—Philadelphia Age.

DEATH OF EX-SENATOR MCDOUGALL.—James A. McDougall, an Ex-Senator of the United States, from the State of California, died at Albany, New York, on the 3d inst. This gentleman was born in Bethlehem, Albany county, New York, in 1817, and received his education in the Albany Grammar School. On the ex-piration of his school term he studied law, and being admitted to practice removed to Pike county, Illinois, of which State he was chosen Attorney General in 1842, and rechosen to the same office in 1844. In 1849 Mr. McDougall originated and accompanied an exploring expedition to Rio Del Norte, the Gila and Colorado. From thence he extended his visit to Cali-fornia, where he fixed his permanent resi-dence. In 1850 he was elected Attorney General of the State of California, and also served in Congress from that State from 1853 to 1855. Declining a renomi-nation, he remained in private life until 1861, when he was elected a Senator of the United States, and served a full term in that body. The ex-Senator was also a delegate to the Chicago Convention in 1864, which nominated Gen. McClellan for the Presidency. Mr. McD. was a man of extensive reading and information, and an orator of point and brilliancy.

PRACTICAL MISCEGENATION.—One of the fussiest Radicals that infest this part of Brownlow's vineyard—a big light in the G. A. R. and the Loyal League—is Mr. John Rhum, the editor of the Radi-cal German paper in this city, called the Staats Zeitung. He is an active little per-son, and turned up yesterday before Esq. Cassety, as a miscegenator. The unfor-tunate sharer of his guilt was a negress, whose complaint, and subsequent proceed-ings thereon, appear in the papers of Esq. Cassety's Court.—Nashville Union.

A MISNOMER.—The Associated Press dispatch announcing the Democratic vic-tory in California, says: "The entire Union State ticket is defeated, and it is doubtful if one Union man is elected." This is a gross abuse of language, of truth, and of the papers to which the Associa-ted Press agency furnishes telegraphic news. The party that was defeated in California, so far from being the Union party, is, and has been since the surrender of Lee's forces, the dis-union party, and to name it otherwise is as false as to call a mule a horse or a traitor a loyalist. We hope this abominable lying will be hence-forth discontinued. The political tide has turned.—Sunday Mercury.

AMERICAN WATCH
MADE AT
WALTHAM, MASS.

The American Watch Company, of Wal-tham, Mass., respectfully submit that their Watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for general use, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market. They are simpler in structure and therefore stronger and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches, which are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces, while in an old English watch there are more than 700 parts. How they run under the hardest trial watches can have, is shown by the following letter:

PENN. RAILROAD COMPANY.
OFFICE OF THE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT,
ALTOONA, PA., 15 Dec., 1866.

Gentlemen: The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this railroad for sev-eral years by our engineemen, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some three hundred of them carried on our line, and we consider them good and reliable time keepers. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying your watch-us give us less trouble, and have worn and do wear much longer without repairs than any watches we have ever had in use on this road. As you are aware, we formerly trust-ed to those of English manufacture, of ac-knowledged good reputation; but as a class they never kept time as correctly, nor have they done as good service, as yours.

In these statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years.

Respectfully,
EDWARD H. WILLIAMS,
General Superintendent.
American Watch Co., Waltham.

We make now five different grades of watches, named respectively as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Appleton, Tracy & Co., | Waltham, Mass. |
| Waltham Watch Company, | Waltham, Mass. |
| P. S. Bartlett, | Waltham, Mass. |
| Wm. Ellery, | Boston, Mass. |
| Home Watch Company, | Boston, Mass. |

All of these, with the exception of the Home Watch Company, are warranted by the American Watch Company to be of the best material, on the most approved princi-ple, and to possess every requisite for a reli-able time keeper. Every dealer selling these watches is supplied with the Company's printed card of guarantee, which should ac-company each watch sold, so that buyers may feel sure that they are purchasing the genuine article. There are numerous coun-terfeits and imitations of our Watches sold throughout the country, and we would cau-tion purchasers to be on their guard against imposition.

Any grades of Waltham Watches may be purchased of Watch Dealers throughout the country. ROBBINS & APPLETON,

CONSUMPTION CURABLE BY DR SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.—To cure CONSUMPTION the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appe-tite created for good wholesome food, which, by these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made; thus building up the constitution. SCHENCK'S MAN-DRAKE PILLS cleanse the stomach of all bilious or mucuous accumulations; and, by using the Sea Weed Tonic in connection, the appetite is restored.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is nutricous as well as medicinal, and by using the three remedies, all impurities are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will repel all diseases. If patients will take these medicines according to direc-tions, Consumption very frequently in its last stage yields readily to their action. Take the pills frequently, to cleanse the liver and stomach. It does not follow that be-cause the bowels are not costive they are not required, for sometimes in diarrhœa they are necessary. The stomach must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonic syrup to act on the respiratory organs, properly and allay any irritation. Then all that is required to perform a per-manent cure is, to prevent taking cold. Exercise about the rooms as much as possi ble, eat all the richest food—fat meat, game, and, in fact, anything the appetite craves; but be particular and masticate well.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.

A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN, 42 Cedar street N. Y.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—REV. EDWARD A. WILSON will send (free of charge) to all who desire it, the prescription with the direc-tions for making and using the simple rem-edy by which he was cured of a lung affec-tion and that dread disease, Consumption. His only object is to benefit the afflicted, and he hopes that every sufferer will try this prescription, as it will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing. Please address
REV. EDWARD A. WILSON,
No. 165 S. Second St., Williamsburg, N. Y.

A STIMULATING TONIC—LIFE BITTERS.—Good health is a blessing. The way to enjoy such is to take a wine glass full of Strickland's Life Bitters two or three times a day. They create a good appetite; they strengthen the stomach; they cure habitual Constipation, Nervousness, and Headache; they make the old feel young. If you wish long life and good health, use Strickland's Life Bitters. For sale in bottles by Drug-gists, and by the drink at all saloons and groceries.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SIGNIFICANT.

The new system of Advertising adopted by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Advertising Agents, No. 40 Park Row, New York, is attracting a good deal of attention.

The following extract from a speech de-livered before the N. Y. State Editorial Con-vention, (lately holden at Penn Yan,) by a prominent Advertising Agent of N. Y. city, goes to show that he at least acknowledges its advantages.

From Jamestown, N. Y., Journal of Aug. 2. Edited by C. E. BISHOP, Chairman of Com-mittee on ADVERTISING AGENCIES.

"Mr. Pettengill spoke in opposition to that plan from the publisher's stand point alone. He showed the publishers that by this system of contracting they were giving lower rates than they gave their own home customers or others equally as prompt and good customers; that they were selling one portion of their paper to be used to compete with and underbid the other columns; that the owner of the space thus sold could come right in and beat the publisher's prices to take his business away from him; that the publishers, fully understanding this, wished to continue so irregular and unbusi-ness-like a system, he (Pettengill & Co.) should of course cease trying to get adverti-sing for the papers at their regular rates and go into the other system of contracting—which he could stand if the printers could."

The anxiety on account of the newspapers is uncalled for. There is not one in twenty which would not prefer to receive all their foreign patronage on this plan, when it is fully understood. It is too generally recog-nized as thoroughly beneficial to all parties concerned to be injured in the least by any-thing which may be said against it by interested parties.

Advertises should send for a circular giv-ing full explanations.

A SPLENDID SUCCESS.—The Harvest Home festival held in this place last week, in aid of the new Catholic church, was in every particular a most gratifying success. The festival opened on Tuesday and was kept up with great spirit until Friday night, and even then the delighted participants were loth to turn their backs upon the festive hall. We have witnessed not a few affairs of this kind, but we have yet to see one prepared with more liberal hands, enjoyed with more zest and gratification, or conducted with more good feeling and pleasant enjoyment than that which our town witnessed during the past week. We are authorized by Father Christy to return thanks to all who aided and assisted in rendering the affair so successful, and these thanks are due not only to the amiable and generous ladies of the congregation who devoted time, labor and money to the cause, but also to the liberal visitors from far and near who contributed so freely of their means, and thus aided so handsomely in the good work. The net profits of the festival will exceed $1,000.

Father Christy was solicited by several persons to continue the festival throughout the present week, but this he declined to do, promising, however, that he would hold another festival on the same plan during the Christmas holidays. Many valuable articles have already been presented to him as prizes for that occasion.

DECLINATION.—Mr. John F. Allen, nominated by the Democratic County Convention for Auditor for one year, declines, as will be seen by his letter published below. We regret this, as Mr. Allen is a gentleman of superior qualifications.

YODER TP., Sept. 2, 1865.

R. L. JOHNSTON, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Having been nominated on the Democratic ticket for the office of Auditor for the term of one year, and being an humble pedagogue in a rural district in the county, it will not suit me to attend to it, and therefore I have thought it best to request you, as Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, to quietly place some other name instead of mine on the ticket for that office. My only reason for making the request is that I will be engaged during the winter teaching a country school, and the duties of Auditor would require my presence in Ebensburg three or four weeks in January, and that is the time the patrons of the school wish the teacher to be at his post.

With many wishes for the triumph of Democratic measures and the success of our State and County tickets, I remain

Yours, &c., JOHN F. ALLEN.

BREVITIES.—We have received an exquisite poetical contribution entitled "An Incident of the Flight into Egypt," from the pen of our gifted young lady friend, "Linnet," which will be published in our next issue.——Attention is invited to the advertisement of D. Carney, Jr., offering at public sale a valuable property located in the Borough of Loretto.——Miss. Sarah Stewart, of Gaysport, Blair county, burst a blood vessel and fell dead, a few days ago, while engaged in milking a cow.——A young man named Gillespie, if we mistake not, a resident of Cameron's Bottom, was kicked in the breast by a fractious mule, in Indiana, one day last week, and his life is despaired of.——The first number of a new paper entitled the Tyrone Bulletin, of which M. H. Jolly, Esq., is editor, came to hand last week. It is independent in politics, and evinces much spirit as a local journal, but its typographia is scarcely equal to its other merits. We wish the Bulletin man a jolly time of it.——Major Thomas A. Maguire, of Johnstown, has been appointed to a clerkship in the Second Auditor's Office, Treasury Department, Washington. The Major sold out to the radicals last fall on credit, and was a long time getting his pay.

PIC-NIC AT CARROLLTOWN.—What will likely be the closing out-door festival of the present season on the Alleghanies, will take place at Carrolltown, on Tuesday, Sept. 24th—to be given in aid of the new addition being made to the church building at that place. If there is any one place more than another at which festivities of this kind are rendered in the highest degree enjoyable, that place is Carrolltown. The citizens are principally of that nationality which appreciates the pleasures and friendly intercourse which are part and parcel of such social reunions, and what they themselves delight in they are always willing and able to extend with a hearty good will to all who see fit to participate with them. Ever open handed and free hearted in giving aid and countenance to all worthy enterprises among their neighbors, our Carrolltown friends deserve a like courtesy on this occasion from all to whom this announcement comes greeting. Therefore, say we, let there be a cordial and generous participation by friends from far and near in the coming pic-nic at Carrolltown, knowing as all do that it will be bestowed upon a worthy cause and a worthy people.

SENTENCE OF WM. JOHNSTON.—In the U. S. District Court at Pittsburgh, on Friday last, Wm. Johnston, of Hollidaysburg, convicted of dealing in counterfeit fractional currency, was brought up for sentence. He protested his innocence, but the Court remarked that it had no doubt whatever of his guilt, and that opinion had been sustained by the verdict of twelve of his fellow citizens. The dealer in counterfeit money, such as the defendent was shown to be, was the worst of the class, and should therefore be visited with the severest penalty. Counterfeiting was a fraud upon the people and upon the government, and while it inflicted serious loss upon the holder, its prevalence operated in such a manner as to destroy confidence in the government circulating medium, and tended to destroy its credit. It was to suppress this evil that the law had been made so stringent. The advanced age of the defendant, as well as the good character he had been able to establish, inclined the Court to reduce the sentence. The defendent was then sentenced to pay a fine of $3,000, and to undergo seven years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary, whither he was taken in the afternoon.

CONSISTENT.—In the proceedings of the Radical County Convention we observe that the Tribune publishes Washington township with a small w as the initial letter. Is this because it ignores the name of the ever to be revered Washington, or is it because that sterling township always throws a large majority against Radicalism? It seems to be for a political reason, because another township bearing the odious name of White is treated in the same manner, while in Blacklick the township is treated to a very large B. How is this, Mr. Tribune? Are we right, or were you out of capital?

A GOOD STREAK.—Michael A. Quartz, the gentlemanly conductor on the Ebensburg Branch, has made a handsome point, and is one of the very few who aided the government with his funds that has "got his money back." Through the agency of Geo. W. Oatman, Esq., and under Act of Congress, he received, a day or two since, $300 from the government, being the amount of his commutation paid in during the early part of the rebellion.

BASE BALL.—The first nine of the Star Club defeated the second nine of the Mountaineer Club, in a match game of base ball, on Wednesday afternoon last. The score was as follows:

| STAR. | R. | O. | MOUNT'R 2D. | R. | O. |

Umpire—V. S. Barker. Scorer—C. Tibbott for Star; W. E. Hutchinson for Mountaineer.

A match game between the first nine of the Iron Club, Johnstown, and the first nine of the Mountaineer Club here, is on the tapis for this (Thursday) afternoon, if the Irons do not fail to come to time.

THE REYNOLDS MONUMENT.—A meeting of the Committee of the First Corps, Army of the Potomac, having charge of the Reynolds Monument, was held at Philadelphia, August 13, 1867. All the members were present. The Treasurer reported $5,916,57 on hand, nearly all of which bears interest. The committee decided to erect a semi-colossal bronze statute of the General, in military uniform, on a sight already selected in the Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg. An additional sum of $2,500 is needed to insure the early completion of the monument. Officers and soldiers of Reynolds' Corps disposed to increase their subscriptions can do so by addressing Geo. C. S. Wainwright, Treasurer, at Rhinebeck, New York, or any of the other members of the committee, namely, Gen. R. Coulter, Greensburg, Westmoreland county, Pa; General J. W. Hofmann, No 9 North Eighth street, Philadelphia; Col. Chapman Biddle, No. 131 South Fifth street, Phila., or Dr. T. H. Bache, No. 233 South Thirteenth street, Philadelphia.

ELOPEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.—One day last week Mr. Johnathan Feightner and Mrs. Rachel Bush, wife of Charles Bush, all of Palo Alto, this county, left for parts unknown. It appears that Feightner and Mrs. Bush have had a kindly understanding between them for some time and that their peculiar attachment for each other was open and notorious. Feightner was Commissioner of this county, from 1860 till 1863, and was the only county officer elected by the Republicans for eleven years. It is said that several warrants have been issued for his arrest. As the Republicans desire to reform the Commissioners' office, hadn't they better send for Feightner?—Bedford Gazette.

PATENT SAW MILL.—John C. Murray has now on exhibition at Maguire & Co.'s clothing establishment on Main street a model of a new patent saw mill, of which W. W. Ewing, of Indiana county, is the inventor. It is claimed for this new invention that it will cut more lumber with less power than any other saw mill now in use, and in a shorter space of time. It is simple in its construction and not liable to get out of order, and is fully as cheap as any other patent saw mill ever introduced to the public. It is well worthy the inspection of lumber manufacturers.

A SURE SIGN.—It is very evident from the way people crowd each other in the new store room of Messrs. Mills & Davis that no common attraction entices them hither. We take it that the aforesaid gentlemen are not only doing a thriving business, but that customers find their stock of goods is not surpassed in this market for beauty, variety or cheapness. Messrs. M. & D. have certainly a fine store room, a complete stock, and spirit enough not to be undersold by any other merchant.

A REMINDER.—Tuesday last was cold and disagreeable enough to remind any one that a change of raiment will soon be required to keep the "human form divine" in a comfortable condition, and this reminder should induce all persons in need of new wearing apparel to examine the fine stock of gentlemen's clothing and ladies' dress goods which are offered at such reasonable prices by V. S. Barker. Shivering mortals will do well to select what they need from his assortment.

HORSE STOLEN.—On the night of the 22d inst. a fine bay horse, five years old, was stolen from the pasture field of Jacob Eckhard, near Sarah Furnace, and was not heard of till three days afterwards. Some men in the upper end of Bedford county arrested a man named Shafer on suspicion and found the horse at no great distance in the woods tied to a tree. Shafer was handed over to the authorities of Bedford county, where he is now in jail.—Hollidaysburg Standard.

BRIGGS has a faculty for getting things cheap. The other day he had a beautiful set of teeth inserted merely for the trouble of kicking a dog. He could use his faculty to better advantage if he had the good sense to buy all he needs at the cheap cash store of James M. Thompson, on High street. Faculty or no faculty, you will be sure to get full remuneration for your money by dealing with our friend Thompson.

JUST SO.—Since his return from the East Harry Shoemaker has been kept as "busy as a nailor" dealing out goods to the numerous customers who almost constantly line his counters. The reason is that Harry has a superb stock of seasonable goods which he is selling at the lowest figures. Calicoes 10 to 18 cents per yard, and everthing else at like reduced prices.

THAT never welcome visitor, Jack Frost, came upon us like a thief in the night, and this (Wednesday) morning he sparkles in the sunshine with a brilliancy only surpassed by the beautiful array of jewelry, watches and fancy goods displayed so temptingly in the show cases of Mr. Joseph Zolner, at his establishment on High street, opposite the Mountain House.

HO! FOR LORETTO.—A grand social cotillion party and oyster supper is to be given at the public house of Mr. F. Bengie, in Loretto, on Monday night next, Sept. 16th. Good music, good cheer, and a good time generally may be expected by all who participate. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

OUTRAGE.—A most brutal outrage was committed one day last week upon the person of a Mrs. Snyder, near Behe & Luther's mill, in Susquehanna township. We will not give the name of the offender, as the case will undergo judicial investigation, but sincerely hope he may be arrested and brought to justice.

THE ATTENTION of our readers cannot be too often called to the fact that C. T. Roberts, at his store on Main street, always keeps a full line of clocks, watches, jewelry, books, stationery, toys, cigars, and fancy goods—a choice variety at low prices.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JOHNSTOWN, SEPT. 9, 1867.

Dear Freeman—Thomas M'Cauley, whom I noticed in the Freeman a few weeks ago as having his foot crushed by an engine in such a manner as to necessitate amputation, died of his injuries, at his residence at Conemaugh, on Friday last. His remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery, in this place, on the following day.

The remains of Abraham Good, who met with a fatal accident at Williamsport last week, were consigned to their last resting place at Conemaugh Station, on Wednesday.

A man named Hocker, who resides in Woodvale, made a most wonderful escape from instant death on yesterday. Mr. Hocker is employed at the Blast Furnace, and was on his way to work about six o'clock yesterday, when proceeding around the short curve on the railroad, just above the depot, he was overtaken by the Express train west, and ere he could spring from the track was caught by the cow-catcher and thrown with great violence against the embankment. He was immediately removed to his residence, and medical aid summoned, when it was discovered that the only injuries he had sustained were a few flesh wounds and several severe contusions.

A young man named Walters, whilst running a foot race at a pic-nic at Lennan's grove, on Tuesday last, fell and severely fractured his arm.

An employee at the Mill named Robert Hasey had his arm fractured at the elbow last week, by being struck on the arm by a large steam hammer which is used in hammering steel, and at which he was employed.

One of our Turner friends, whilst laboring under an accumulated load of lager, fell from a second story window at the brewery of Mr. Stemmer, and brought up suddenly on a soft plank beneath, breaking his arm, it being still softer than the plank.

'Squire Flattery had his pocket picked, whilst entering the post office on yesterday week, of about $150. There is always a large crowd at the delivery window on Sundays, and the nimble-fingered individual of course escaped without detection.

The till of Jacob Holzworth's beer saloon was last week robbed of $50. Mr. H. had crossed the street to a grocery store to make a purchase, and during his brief absence the daring theft took place. No clue to the perpetrator.

A couple of individuals called at the store of Mr. John Geis, on Saturday, and desiring to purchase a hat, they were shown an assortment. After a lengthy examination of the various styles, they at length concluded that none of the hats would suit, and were leaving the store, when a customer, who had accidentally observed the performance, informed the clerk that one of them had secreted a hat under his coat. The gentleman was overhauled and the hat discovered, when he agreed to pay for it, but a constable happening to pass along the hat manipulator was handed over, and after a hearing before 'Squire Flattery, was held in the sum of $500 to answer the charge of larceny.

The Turners' convention, torch-light procession and pic-nic, were all grand affairs, and the Society deserves credit for the orderly manner in which everything passed off. The torch-light procession on Monday evening was well gotten up, and the display of Chinese lanterns, torches, &c., was a very pleasing exhibition. Their pic nic was a complete success, and was wound up in the evening by tripping it on their own and each others' fantastic toes, at Fronheiser's Hall, until about the hour that chanticleers most do crow.

The pic-nic of St. Peter's Society was not as successful as it might have been, owing to the very unfavorable condition of the weather. Two fascinating young ladies ran a foot race adjacent to to the pic-nic grounds. Your correspondent had a high object in view in observing this race, for if it can be demonstrated that ladies can indulge in this kind of exercise, the custom should be introduced at once, as nothing would be so well calculated to produce elasticity and development in our young ladies—as it were.

The Allegheny Evangelical Lutheran Synod of the Lutheran church convened here in the beginning of last week, and adjourned yesterday. About fifty ministers were present, besides a large number of laymen. The pulpits of the majority of the churches were filled yesterday by members of the conference.

"Sku Bal" spent several days in your goodly town last week. He wasn't exactly on a court scrape, but managed to get into business shortly after his arrival, and done some pretty tall "pleading." As the harvest was plenty and the reapers very scarce, he made himself generally useful in trying to secure an abundant crop, and if all the credulous individuals who expected to draw the "little animile" will come down with the dust for a year's subscription to the Freeman, they will be assisting another worthy object, and if they file away the successive numbers, will be laying up treasures for themselves which will increase and multiply as the years roll by. And now, by the way, whilst I am on this subject, allow me to give a piece of gratuitous information to those collecting for churches, charitable objects, &c., which is—never be backward about asking the man who takes his county paper, and pays for it. As a class they are always generous, and willing at all times to assist a laudable object. S. B. was present at the Harvest Home celebration, given by Rev. R. C. Christy, and in common with all who attended, was highly pleased with the arrangements for the social enjoyment of his visitors. The young ladies of Ebensburg also deserve great credit for their generous and successful efforts in promoting the general good feeling which prevailed during the entire entertainment.

A large and commodious addition to the gas works is in course of erection, and when completed it is the intention of the company to put up new retorts and patent purifiers, whereby the offensive smell pertaining to gas will be entirely removed. SKU BAL.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Mr. Editor—I see in last week's issue of the Freeman an article copied from the Chicago Times, in relation to the appointment of Mother Angelo as a provincial of the order of the Sisters of the Holy Cross in this country, which states that this eminent religeuse belongs to the Ewing family of Ohio. The latter statement is a mistake, and a gentleman who was personally acquainted with her family furnishes me with these particulars in regard to her family history. Neal Gillespie, an old and esteemed resident of Brownsville, Pa., was the father of three children—John, William, and Maria. The latter married, and was the mother of Jas. G. Blaine, M. C., from Missouri. John Gillespie also married and by his wife had a son and two daughters, all born at Brownsville. His son John took orders, and is now priest of the Holy Cross, at South Bend, Ind. The eldest daughter married Mr. P. Ewing of Ohio, whilst the remaining daughter is the Mother Angelo, whose life has been one of unostentatious piety, and whose bright example has been the means of inducing many to devote themselves to the self-sacrificing calling of Sisters of Mercy. Hon. T. Ewing married a Miss Boyle, a niece, I believe, of Neal Gillespie. AYLSE.

PAPER CUTTER

A CASE IN POINT.

The Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer publishes the following account of a case almost precisely similar to the one which gave rise to the decision of Judge Sharswood, which the Radical papers of Pennsylvania are all assailing, but which they dare not publish in full:

"In July, 1861, a poor man in this city, having on hand four hundred dollars in gold, which he desired to deposit in some safe place for a short time, handed it to a friend for that purpose. The gentleman to whom it was given placed it in a banking house in this city, and received a certificate of deposit, of which the following is a true copy:

"'$400. HENRY WICK & Co, Bankers.
Cleveland, July 5, 1861.

"'Thomas McMahon, Esq., has deposited with us Four Hundred Dollars COIN to the credit of himself, payable to his order hereon in like funds in four months with interest.

"'No. 359. E. D. CHILDS, Teller.

"'Indorsed THOMAS MCMAHON.'

"When this certificate wae presented for payment the holder of it was informed that he could not get gold for it, because Congress had passed a law that "greenbacks" should be a legal tender. The holder of the paper, thinking this was rather sharp practice on the part of the bank, on the 14th of November, 1862, brought his suit in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga county, to enforce the contract. The defendants in their answer admitted receiving the gold, and set up the law of Congress in defense. A tender in Court of four hundred dollars in greenbacks was made. The case was tried by the Court. Judge Foote, now a candidate for re-election as Judge of that Court, presiding, held that, although there was a contract to return gold, yet the law of Congress, passed since the making of the contract, had declared greenbacks to be a legal tender, and the plaintiff must receive that kind of money in return for his gold. A judgment was rendered against the defendants for four hundred dollars and interest, and as the amount had been tendered to the plaintiff, he had to pay the costs."

Here was an express contract to return coin as deposited. It would seem to be more binding, if possible, than a promise to pay any ordinary debt in specie. Yet a Radical Court decided against the right of the poor man to enforce the contract. For attempting to protect the right of a creditor in a similar case Judge Sharswood is being bitterly assailed. Yet the very same newspapers which attack his decision insist that both the interest and the principal of the Government bonds must all be paid in coin. Here is a specimen of radical consistency. They forget the old saying that it is "a poor rule which won't work both ways." If a poor man is bound to take greenbacks from a bank when the express contract is that he is to receive gold again for the gold he deposited, why should bondholders be entitled to be paid gold coin for the greenback paper they loaned the Government? In many cases their bonds did not cost them more than fifty cents to the dollar in gold value. Is there to be one kind of currency for the rich and another for the poor—gold for those who pay no taxes, and depreciated ragged shinplasters for those whose daily toil furnishes all the revenue of the nation. If Judge Sharswood's opinion was wrong in law, or false in principle, then the sooner the rule laid down by the majority of the Court of which he was a member is applied to bondholders, the better for the country. If his decision was right, and the principles laid down by him are sustained, then all contracts made to pay coin can and must be enforced. Radical law and Radical logic are alike lame on this question.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

"King John" on the Rampage.

A brief telegram to the Associated Press announced that General Pope (John Pope) had suppressed the Albany, Ga., News for expressing disloyal sentiments. It may gratify the community and the reader to see the article which this King John accounts disloyal—and so we copy it entire below:—

KING JOHN.

John Pope, one of the five American monarchs, and King of Georgia, Alabama and Florida, has issued his Royal Edict No. 49. Had any one predicted five years ago that a person would be clothed with authority or placed in a position to issue such an order in this country, he would have been accounted fit only for a lunatic asylum; but now, so far from that, we are becoming accustomed to such things, and are bowing our necks under the imperial yoke with all due submission.

King John, when he was nothing but a Major General, had his "Headquarters in the saddle," but now he sits on the throne erected in Atlanta, and wields a sceptre over a realm embracing what some peoplo are simple enough to believe "are three States of this Union," to wit: Georgia, Alabama and Florida. In those States newspapers are printed, and people to make their business known, advertise in them; civil officers are also in the habit of informing, through these papers, the people of the time and place of public meetings in which they are interested. The Edict No. 49, from His Majesty, King John, directs that these civil officers must publish their advertisements in a certain class of newspapers—those favorable to the Congressional policy of Reconstruction, and he instructs all military officers, of whatever degree, grade, or style of service, to see that this edict is strictly enforced, and to promptly arrest and report the slightest violation of it.

King John, has, in reality, no such power and authority. It is an assumption of despotism which no absolute monarch in the world, except one of the Five American Monarchs, would dare think of for a moment. It would cost the Kingdom and Throne of the mightiest ru'e in the universe to attempt such an abridgement of the people's rights. How long will the American people submit to such things? Can't they see the inevitable tendency of such submission? What has become of the "Spirit of '76?" The quicker King John's throne crumbles to the dust the better it will be for the country.

It would appear from this that it is "disloyalty" now, to speak slightingly of the royal persons of these military satraps. It is no longer disloyalty to "the Government" that is complained of, but "disloyalty" to the King himself. So we go.

AN AGENT OF THE LORD.—Deacon Simes was an austere man who followed oystering, and was of the hardshell persuasion. The deacon "allus made it a pint" to tell his customers that the money which he received for "isters" did not belong to him. "The good father made the 'isters,'" said the deacon, "and the money is his'n; I'm only a steoart." One Sunday morning the old fellow was tearing round from house to house with a suspicious bit of currency in his hand, and more than a suspicion of rage in his face. Some one had given him a bad fifty cents, and he "wasn't goin' to meetin' till that ar was fixed up." "Why deacon," said one of his customers, whom he had tackled about it, "what's the odds? what need you care? 'tisn't yours, you know; you are only a steward; it isn't your loss." The deacon shifted his shoulder, walked to the door, unshipped his quid, and said: "Yaas, thats so; but if you think that I'm goin' to stand by and see the Lord cheated out of fifty cents you're mistaken. I don't foster no such feelin'."
